

To Whom It May Concern:

I had the pleasure of working with John Racine in Q1 2006 when I contracted him at the software company where I worked to help one of my fulltime technical writers with finishing off the docs for a major release. During this time, John conducted himself very professionally and was a pleasure to work with as he quickly adapted himself to my working environment.

He was efficient enough, in fact, that he completed the assigned work early, and then was honest enough to proactively let me know - something that not every contractor has done in my experience, so it was very appreciated.

I would not have any hesitation to hire John again for a similar project, and I recommend him to anyone who is looking for an intelligent, energetic, and professional addition to their technical writing staff. Thank you.
